

ACHIEVING TRANSFORMATIVE CHANGE: THE ANALYTICS AND SOCIAL PROCESSES FOR IMPLEMENTING THE SDGS TO ACHIEVE SYSTEMIC SUSTAINABILITY

COLIN BRADFORD,
INTERNATIONAL
ECONOMIST AT THE BROOKINGS INSTITUTION

This discussion will explore how to move forward agendas for "transformative change" based on empirical work and social processes of engagement to assure a solid basis for change based in part on the work of Colin Bradford and MPPGA student Chad Rickaby.

Bio: Colin Bradford is an international economist at the Brookings Institution who is known as a leader in efforts to achieve international institutional reform and in establishing and strengthening the G20 as a global governance mechanism for the world economy.
